ROUMANIA TO SHORTLY BECOME BELLIGERENT, PETROGRAD BELIEVES

PETROGRAD, JAN. 28.—THE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA RECEIVED THE ROMANIAN MINISTER IN AUDIENCE YESTERDAY, AND IT IS NOW EXPECTED THAT ROUMANIA WILL ENTER THE WAR SHORTLY.

FIGHTING IN THE REGION OF GUMBINNEN AND PILLKALEN, IN EAST PRUSSIA, HAS DEVELOPED INTO A GENERAL BATTLE, AS A RE-SULT OF GERMAN EFFORTS TO RECAPTURE POSITIONS TAKEN BY THE RUSSIANS. HARD FIGHTING CONTINUES IN THE REGION OF GRIMOW, WEST OF WARSAW.

IN GALICIA, THE RUSSIANS ARE BATTLING ALONG A 100-MILE FRONT EXTENDING FROM DUKLA PASS TO WYSZEKOW, IN THE CAR-PATHIAN MOUNTAINS. IT IS ADMITTED THAT HEAVY ATTACKS BY THE AUSTRIANS HAVE FORCED THE RUSSIANS TO RETIRE A SHORT DISTANCE NORTHWARD. IT IS ALSO ADMITTED THAT THE TURKS HAVE RESUMED THEIR OFFENSIVE OPERATIONS IN THE TRANS-CAUCASUS AND IN PERSIA, BUT OTTOMAN CLAIMS OF VICTORY IN THE OLTY REGION ARE DENIED.

THE OLD FOLKS ABROAD

Written Especially for the Daily News

By DR. CHARLES FREDERIC GOSS

Author "Redemption of David Corson"

The Winter Visitor looked serious, beyond his wont.
"What's the matter," someone asked.
"Down here," he said, "the problem of 'Old Age' is a little too acute to suit me. At home, I can forget it, for I am surrounded by young folks and all I have to do, is to shut my eyes when I comb my hair and shave, to forget that I am growing old. But in Daytona, gray hair and wrinkles stare me in the face on every hand. The problem gets too personal, altogether."
"What problem?" asked some stupid person.
"How to grow old gracefully, the greatest problem in the world," he said, and challenged us to answer it, which a few of us tried to do.
"Keep cheerful," said a merry old fellow whose countenance betokened perfect health, and added, "if you don't, people will hate you to your death!"
"Keep hopeful," advised a quiet gentleman, whose countenance bore evidence of spiritual struggle. "When hope dies down, the heart grows cold, like a room, when the fire goes out, you can't be cheerful, if you do not hope," he added.
"Keep your troubles to yourself," declared a silent veteran of the civil war (we thought), about whose outer and inner life, we had often wondered. "People have troubles enough of their own and don't care a rap for yours. Hide them! Don't ever bring them out, even for an airing. I've tried it and I know."
"Be brave," suggested a grizzled old chap who had struck us as going around with chip on his shoulder. "A man can't always be cheerful, nor hopeful, nor always keep his mouth shut; but he can always fight! It is a world of struggle and we've got to battle to the end. I fight ennui and despair-of-life, as a man fights fire or beasts of the jungles."
"Think of other people! Always keep on hand some case of trouble. Never allow yourself to be without a human load to carry. Seeing so many people so much worse off than yourself, will make you more contented with your lot."
These words were uttered by a hard-headed, broad shouldered, deep chested creature whom none of us had ever dreamed of being a philanthropist.
We turned to the Winter Visitor and he remarked that he thought we had pretty well covered the ground, except that nobody had said "have faith." But perhaps it is the same as "hope" he added. "At any rate, we've got to keep our windows open toward the New Jerusalem! We've got to look forward and look upward. We've got to believe that the best is yet to be."
"Enough said," from an otherwise silent person, dismissed us, like a benediction.

terness was let loose by his strong personal reaction against the ultra-modern, feminist type of femininity, for whom Madame Strindberg herself has no manner of use.

"I began with advanced ideas, you see," she confessed naively, "and I found that in practical experience they didn't work. Strindberg knew that, from the beginning. His ideal of womanhood was the

ALLANDALE.

ALLANDALE, Jan. 25.—The new guests registered at Ye Inn during the were E. H. Herrick, Bogota, N. J.; G.
L. Dunnebl, New York city; Mrs. K.
M. Mobley and daughter, Miss Annie,
Asheville, N. C.; L. Lynman, Jones M.
McCrorey and wife, Grand Rapids,
Mich.; Miss Charlotte Bemis, J. M.
Pool, Port Orange; Mrs. A. C. Sterling, Baltimore, Md.

The Sunday dinner guests were Don Morris, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Pope, and Col. Burgoyne, Daytona; T. J. Mc-Loughlin and daughter, Miss Gladys, of New York; Rev. R. W. Edwards,
Jacksonville; J. W. Rikeman and wife, Mrs. E. J. Holland, E. W. Hitchcock and wife, Mrs. and Miss Brook, Mrs.
Howes, J. L. McCrorey and wife, and
J. M. Pool.

The Rev. R. W. Edwards, of Jacksonville, the superintendent of missions for the presbytery of Florida, spent Sunday afternoon and night here, and in the evening conducted a preaching service at the club house, which was well attended considering the short notice that there would be such a service. The object of his visit was to look over the field in reference to establishing a mission church here.

Mrs. E. J. Holland, formerly of Cambridge, Mass., and later of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Rike-man, at Magnolia Lodge, on Ridgewood avenue.

An addition to the population of Allandale arrived on Sunday night.
A fine girl baby was left by the stork at the home of Otis Johnson. Mother and baby both doing nicely, thank you. Who has done more for Allanddale than Otis? Three houses and two babies in eighteen months.

Jones McCrorey's sister, Mrs. K. M.
Mobley, and daughter, of Asheville,
N. C., arrived last week and are located in Wescourt bungalow for the winter.

The 500 club meets this week at the club house on Tuesday night. The meeting last week was a perfect success, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

On Wednesday evening last week a party of 18 couples came down from Daytona and little sister town across the Halifax for a supper and dance.

Another week has passed and nothing done towards putting the Riverside drive in condition. The shell is still piled up along the side of the road and the passing is dangerous.
The John Anderson highway is becoming a byword among the auto people, and not without cause. Ridgewood avenue through Port Orange is in bad shape and should be taken in hand and at least repaired. Port Orange with its limited resources cannot keep the road up to the requirements as it is the most traveled road in this section. It is to be hoped that some steps can be taken right away to make the road what it should be.

Land Measures.

One acre contains 160 square rods,
4,840 square yards, 43,560 square feet.
The side of a square must measure as follows to contain: Ten acres, 660 feet; one acre, 298.71; half acre,
147.58; third acre, 129.59; fourth acre,
194.38; eighth acre, 73.79.

PORT ORANGE.

PORT ORANGE, Jan. 26.—Miss Mildred Wheeler, from Napoleon, O., arrived on Friday last to care for her mother, who has rooms in the Mc-Donald heirs' house. Both were here for the season two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge Noman, of Baldwin, L. I., have rooms in J. B.
Case's house on Orange street.

Rev. Mr. Nease held services Sunday morning and evening at the Methodist church.

Rev. Mr. Blaker officiated at the regular services Sunday afternoon at Grace Episcopal church.

M. Solane, of San Mateo, is opening a meat market in the store building owned by the Crow estate.

Mr. James Heath has improved his property by laying a drain pipe in front of his store.

Mr. Henry Jones has bought the J.
I. Stanford oyster outfit, including the oyster house, fixtures, boats, lease, etc., at this place.

Orange street between Dunlawton and Herbert has been newly shelled by F. O. Sparkman's teams and is ready for the roller.

The walks along the east side of the school ground, on Orange street, and from Orange street past the north entrance along Dunlawton have been completed, and the part to join the railroad walks is nearing completion.
This makes an unbroken stretch on both sides from the railroad to Lafayette street. The property owners deserve thanks for putting down these walks. They are a great convenience in getting to and from the station, and draw favorable comments from visitors. It is greatly to be regretted that some lots are still without walks in the most traveled part of town.
Strangers are quick to note whether a town is progressive or otherwise, and in these days people like to invest and live in a place that looks like it is getting ahead. Sidewalks are a drawing attraction to a class of visitors who might be induced to become residents and investors and assist in still further improvements.

Every resident, business man or property owner should be interested in being in a town that grows, for that means more conveniences, more business and an increase in values. There is an attraction in a growing town and the faster it grows the greater the attraction. We are growing but not nearly so fast as we might, should all turn boosters.

A Mr. Edenfield, who has lived for a number of years west of this place, was found dead Sunday morning in a house, into which he had recently moved, west of Dunlawton hammock.
Death having evidently resulted from natural causes, no inquest was deemed necessary, and the interment took place Monday.

Repairs on Ridgewood avenue, owing to the wet weather, have been discontinued. The appeal for aid to put this part of the Anderson highway in better condition appears to have fallen on deaf ears. It would seem to be but justice that all care should be given in keeping this road in good condition.

NAUTILUS BAL MASQUE MET EXPECTATIONS OF MERRYMAKING CROWD

DESPITE THE VERY INCLEMENT WEATHER HUNDREDS ATTENDED SPECTACULAR EVENT AT CASINO LAST EVENING.

About 600 attended the first "bal masque" at the Nautilus last evening. Nearly 100 of these were enmasque and many others joined in the dancing later in the evening. The bad weather of yesterday prevented many from participating, but altogether this first carnival event can be considered a great success. Many who attended expressed regret that they had not realized the possibilities of such a frolic and had failed to prepare to join in the fun in costume and mask, and it is safe to say that the next masked ball at the Nautilus will find a much larger number entering into the sport of the carnival.

The real feature of the evening was the costume exhibition dancing by the ten members of the staff of the Nautilus school of dancing. These ladies and gentlemen were attired in native Spanish dress of black and yellow and their appearance en masse on the dance floor made a very pretty picture. Their production of a Spanish "hotot" dance opened the ball and their harmonious precision and grace of movement elicited much enthusiastic applause. This dance was followed by a few steps of the Brazilian maxixe, after which general dancing commenced and continued until nearly 12 o'clock.

One of the most heartily enjoyed events of the evening was the "dancing contest," something new for Daytona. Eight couples participated. The judges were Messrs. Brooks, Marshall and Renan, and their decision was based to an extent on the opinion of the audience as expressed in the degree of applause given the various dancers. Each couple danced the one-step once around the floor and then four of the couples were requested to again dance for the final decision, the prize eventually being awarded to Frank J. McNally and partner of Ormond.

Much commendation was expressed for the commodious seating arrangements and for the excellence of the music furnished by the Nautilus lady orchestra.

One of the dance figures was made particularly attractive by the throwing of ribbon confetti and toy balloons.

The ten instructors of the Nautilus school of dancing are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening, which was largely due to their efforts.

F. W. Haskell and family, who for two past seasons have occupied the Garland residence, 378 South Beach street, arrived Wednesday evening to again spend the season. Mr. Haskell is president of the Corborationum company of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

ARE SILENCED BY WHITLOCK

Envoy Hands Card to German Officers Who Objected to His Speaking English.

Paris.—A story printed here of a peculiar incident at Brussels recently is attracting much comment and considerable amusement.

Two German officers were dining in a restaurant in the Belgian capital. At the adjoining table were two men conversing in English. The German officers showed signs of displeasure at the use of English by their neighbors, but the latter took no notice of the annoyance of the Germans and continued their talk.

Finally the Germans could stand it no longer and one of the officers arose and approaching the table at which the strangers were sitting said: "I will be obliged if you will stop talking in English; it displeases and annoys me."

One of the men thereupon asked the officer for his card and held out his own. The officer looked at the card, drew himself up, clicked his heels together, saluted and murmured his excuses.

The stranger's card bore the name of Brand Whitlock, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Belgium.

RAT WENT THROUGH THE WAR

Unusual Pet Was in Soldier's Pocket During Hot Fights in Flanders.

London.—Perhaps the only rat on record that ever went through a military campaign, ensconced snugly in its soldier owner's pocket, at the battle of Mons, the Marne and the Aisne, is now in London in the possession of Sergeant Johnson of the Royal Field artillery. Johnson was wounded at Soissons and is on a few days' leave.

"Billy," as Johnson calls his rat, though the latter is a lady, is pure white, and was given to the English soldier by a French girl at the beginning of the war. During the battle of Mons, the rat sat on her master's right boot. Twice she wandered away, but came back all right and was in the fighting all the way from Mons to Melun, southeast of Paris, and back to the Marne and the Aisne. Billy was in Sergeant Johnson's pocket all the time and was never hurt. When the soldier landed at Southampton, after he had been wounded by shrapnel, a lady who saw the white rat, presented to Johnson a black terrier pup named Toby to keep Billy company. The rat and the pup are now close friends.

WAR SPATS CAUSE DIVORCE

Use of French Language Classified as Offense—Suspects Tried by Court Martial.

Basel, Switzerland.—German martial law is described by Alsatians in Basel as "weighing heavily" upon their countrymen at home.

They declare that the speaking of French is classified as an offense under the orders issued by the commanding generals of the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-first German Army corps, who cite the imperial laws of 1878 and 1882 to support their contention. The testimony of the children and servants is taken as proof before court-martial of guilt of talking French.

Personal feeling between pro-French and pro-German Alsatians is running high, visiting Alsatians declare. The local courts have granted divorces recently to husbands and wives unable to live harmoniously because of their opposing national sympathies.

LOST GLASS EYE IN FIGHT

French Soldier Wants New Optic So He May Rejoin Forces at Front.

Paris.—Emile Decostered, a French soldier, has written an oculist in Paris asking that he be supplied a new eye. His letter states that he fought with his regiment until a week ago when he was wounded by a ball that hit the glass eye and shattered it.

"The doctor, noticing I am without an eye," says Decostered, "is holding me in the hospital. Please send me an eye so that I can join my command."

The 31st of October, 1793

By F. A. MITCHEL

In the autumn of 1893 Charles Goodwin, an American bachelor who had been spending an evening at a students' ball in the Latin quarter of Paris, on his way to his hotel in the Rue Rivoli crossed the bridge leading into the Place de la Concorde. Just as he reached the fountain midway between the two obelisks a clock in deep tone struck the hour of 1.

Something like a shudder came over the young man. Perhaps it was the loneliness, for the Place was deserted—that is, at the moment, since this central location can never be said to be deserted for any length of time even in the small hours of morning. Perhaps it was the contrast between his surroundings and the gay scenes he had just left, a contrast heightened by his knowledge of the history of the location where stood the fountain he was passing. He stopped and mused.

During the reign of terror where the fountain is now stood the guillotine. Every day a succession of carts brought victims to this Moloch of the revolution. At first the nobility of France were in process of removal; then when factions became jealous of each other the party in power removed those who were its rivals. For awhile Robespierre was virtual dictator and beheaded who should be executed. The orders of the Conservatives, the Girondists, the center of those of royal and public head. Then a new faction seized the supreme power and sent Robespierre to the guillotine.

While Goodwin mused there was no sound but a distant sob coming over the stones of a street of laughter from a cafe on the Champs Elysees. And even then came an interval the thought that he was alone. But suddenly he caught sight through the spray of the fountain of a woman's figure on the other side of the basin. Impelled by curiosity he moved forward to where she stood. What was his astonishment to see one whose features indicated that she was a lady. Her dress also bespoke her rank. The costume was in the director style which was in vogue some time ago. She was very pale.

It has never been permitted to Parisian ladies to be on the street alone even at midday. As for a lady being out unattended at 1 o'clock in the morning, such a thing was unthinkable, and yet the American was positive that the person he saw on the other side of the fountain was a lady. Her features were French. As to her costume, though it was in a style in vogue hundred years before—a style that had been revived—the collar and cap were those worn at the close of the eighteenth century.

"Madame," exclaimed Goodwin, "surely you have been through some error on the part of your escort or your coachman, caught out alone. Will you permit me to call a carriage?"

"What day is this?" asked the lady. "Day of the week or the month?"

"The month."

"This is the 31st of October."

"Do you hear them singing?"

Surely this woman had lost her reason and, having eluded her keeper, had wandered forth in the night. Goodwin was at a loss to know what to do—whether to call the police or a cab.

"There are only three voices now," continued the woman. "Mine was one of the first to be stifled."

"Won't you take my arm, madame?" said Goodwin, extending it. "The night is chill, and you do not seem to be sufficiently clad."

"Now there are two," was the only reply.

"I beg of you come with me—for a little way—to the Rue Rivoli. We will find a cab there."

"Now there is one."

Goodwin was badly upset. Alone in Paris with a crazy woman between 1 and 2 in the morning, he would have left her, but this would be desertion. He could not bring himself to do it. Fortunately a cab came across the bridge. When it arrived opposite the fountain he ran out to call the driver. As he started the lady he was leaving said:

"Now, there is none."

The cabman stopped, and his cab was empty. Goodwin returned for the lady.

She was gone.

All in a shiver, Goodwin got into the cab and was driven to his hotel.

The next afternoon he walked out through the Place de la Concorde. The day was bright and the space was filled with carriages and pedestrians. He stood by the fountain on the exact spot where he had stood the night before.

Had he been dreaming?

Three years later he was reading a history of the Girondists. The last pages of the book gave an account of how they died on the guillotine singing the "Marseillaise," the volume of sound growing less till the last one sang alone. That single voice stifled, all had perished. Turning to the date of this one of the most dramatic scenes of history, Goodwin noticed that it occurred on the 31st of October, 1793.

Up to the time of reading this account Goodwin had frequently spoken to his friends of his adventure that night in the Place de la Concorde, which a century before had been called the Place de la Revolution. After having informed himself of the fate of the Girondists he never again mentioned it. His friends noticed, too, that he was changed.

Ranson's Prepared Humus Soil Builder and Plant Food

In these strenuous days of intensive farming, getting an extra bit out of it—give soil building some thought. Commercial fertilizers stimulate vegetable life, but it requires humus to nourish and strengthen the land. Ranson's Prepared Humus is so remarkably rich in nitrogen and other elements essential to plant growth.

BEFORE AFTER

Ranson's Prepared Humus is wonderfully beneficial when applied freely to lawns, gardens, groves, flower beds, golf links, trees, shrubbery and potted plants. It not only builds up the soil but it also makes it more fertile. It is five times stronger and lasts ten times longer than barnyard manure. Humus is easily handled, may be applied at any time; is odorless and sanitary. Manure is disagreeable, carries weed seeds, and is a favorite breeding place for flies.

No Need to Plant Legumes and Wait for Vines to Rot

Your sandy soil is crying for food. Give it a liberal supply of Ranson's Prepared Humus. One customer took some and wrote his name with it on the lawn. In a short time the letters stood out plainly above the rest of the grass. Read the testimonial.

Feed your soil liberally, for it is cheap. Delivered to your nearest station anywhere in Florida at $12.00 a ton. Sample order, six sacks for $5.00, f. o. b. Special prices on large orders. Send your check; we will ship the Prepared Humus promptly.

The garages in front of the Post Office Club house are situated in a very unsuitable condition, which should be remedied either by the club or the city as a matter of civic pride.

The bad condition of the garages is particularly due to the rafting up of the ground by the automobile traffic for members of the club in the morning and being parked in front of the building. If the garages is to be used for this purpose, instead of being used as a yard, it would be well to have it surfaced with shell or other hard material which would not so readily be raised up by the traffic. As it now is it is for these things an annoyance to the club and the building.

THE NEW YEAR HAS SHOWN UP VERY WELL, TO DATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Prosperity is not a thing that bursts into full activity on the instant, as if shot from a cannon. This much may be said for the benefit of those who may have thoughts that the final tick of the clock which translated 1914 into 1915 must be immediately followed by a spontaneous and overwhelming activity in all lines of business endeavor. Several indications have, however, already shown themselves that betoken a revival of enterprise, and confidence in a gradual but sure awakening of trade, in the immediate future is more manifest. There is, what was for some time lacking a disposition to do things and a feeling of certainty in making arrangements for the future. Basic conditions are understood, and it is now only a matter of detail or method as to how to proceed.

COBURN'S MINSTRELS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

With everything new every season J. A. Coburn's Greater Minstrels has presented clean comedy, splendid singing, and the latest and best in minstrelsy in Daytona for many years. Always progressive and original, the new scenic novelty "The Palace of Neptune in the Land of the Nyads" representing the deep sea home of Old King Neptune with its seashell, grottoes, mermals, sunken castles, ships and submarine vistas of aquatic life in old ocean's bed, is unique in the extreme as a stage picture for the presentation of modern minstrelsy. Beautiful costumes, and electrical effects, an all new company and strictly first class production stamp it as one of the best attractions of the season. The comedy element, the "fun folks" headed by those supremely comical chaps Charley Gano and Nicodemus Glynn (of Al G. Fields Co.) Vermont & Hellman, Stirk & Lagoni and Tom Post from "Old Vagabond" comprise a corps of mirth provoking, care destroying entertainers which guarantee satisfaction. Lester Lucas, basso and interloper, William Church, counter tenor, Joseph Maguire, robust baritone and Justin McCarty, the Celtic tenor and yodler, assisted by Geo. Baber, soprano, Archie Milton, tenor robusto, and J. W. Williamson, baritone, and Adrian Arnold, male alto, furnish a male choir of exceptional merit and musical ability. Six big minstrel vaudeville specialties closing with a screaming farce satire "Pacificating Mexicanos," in which the entire company appear in grotesque burlesque and comedy characters, provide a most diversified and enjoyable programme, undoubtedly the best Manager Coburn has ever produced. PARKAGE UNSIGHTLY IN FRONT
OF PALMETTO CLUB HOUSE

The parkage in front of the Palmetto club house on Orange avenue is in a very unsightly condition, which should be remedied either by the city or the club as a matter of civic pride. The bad condition of the parkage is principally due to the cutting up of the ground by the automobiles bringing members of the club to the meeting and being parked in front of the building. If the parkage is to be used for this purpose, instead of being kept in sod, it would be well to have it surfaced with shell or other hard material which would not so readily be cut to pieces by the cars. As it now is it is far from being an attractive approach to the building.

TO REPEAT OFFERING OF WEDNESDAY EVENING

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be shown again at the New Daytona theater tonight.

Tomorrow and Saturday, with daily matinees, comes the popular and wonderful "Cabiria" for a return engagement. On Friday the afternoon and evening performances will be in the nature of a benefit for the Daytona High School Athletic association. The students are trying hard to raise sufficient funds to bring the Miami high school basketball team to this city for a game, and they are deserving of receiving the generous support of the people in general.

"Cabiria" is such a wonderful feature that all should see it. This is not stated merely for the purpose of boosting the management, but because "Cabiria" is just about the greatest moving picture in the world.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday the J. A. Coburn great minstrels will be here. That is enough of an announcement to guarantee two nights of good time and excellent amusement. Critics on big city papers during the season have pronounced this season's offering as the best "Coburn" has ever had so that is another promise of the good things that are to come next Tuesday and Wednesday at the New Daytona.

DOGGERS TO BE DISCUSSED
AT TAX MEN'S CONFERENCE

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—The tax assessors of the state met here today to plan concerted action and ways and means for uniform manner of action and work. The disparity of the collection in districts which should be comparatively uniform will be corrected by concerted action.

BOXING GOOD FOR WOMEN'S NERVES

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Girls, are you afflicted frequently with a case of "nerves"? Do you get hysterics occasionally? Have you a temper that is riled easily? Have you a catty disposition?

Well, girls, if you have, and want to rid yourself of the above ailments or faults, take a course in boxing, and presto, you'll be cured. DeWitt Van Court says so, and everybody who knows DeWitt guesses that he ought to know.

DeWitt is athletic instructor, or something like that for the Los Angeles Athletic club. For years and years he has been giving boxing lessons. Now he says, to-wit:

"I've taught boxing to hundreds of women during my career and never once has a course in boxing failed to cure women who were afflicted with nerves, hysterics, bad temper or a bad disposition."

"How do you account for it?" asked a skeptic.

"Well, women are filled with nervous energy same as men. Men get an outlet for it through one form of athletics or another. Women don't indulge in athletics as a rule. Therefore, the nervous energy is retained in their systems to break out eventually in a case of 'nerves' or hysteria."

"Boxing affords women the exercise that they need. It uses up that surplus energy. It acts as an exhaust and leaves them just natural. Furthermore, boxing helps to develop a woman's figure. It removes surplus flesh and keeps a woman in fine condition. Women of middle age who take up boxing look ten years younger as the result of it."

DeWitt forgot to tell you girls about another benefit from taking a course in boxing. Such a course, girls, enables you to master the art of self-defense and that mastery might come in handy some day if you happen to marry a man who is inclined to become rambunctious ever so often.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The weekly Tuesday evening hops were greatly enjoyed at Hotel Windsor this week. It is planned to continue them throughout the season.

The miniature golf course of Hotel Windsor is in the best condition now, and the weekly tournaments, which proved so popular last season, will soon be started.

The Sunday evening concerts by the Crystal orchestra at the Howard hotel are proving to be very enjoyable, and Mrs. Howard has been the recipient of many compliments from her guests for her activity in securing this talented organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Haskell, Benjamin Haskell, valet and maid, who arrived at the Ridgewood yesterday from Niagara Falls, will be the guests of the Ridgewood until their 378 S. Beach street residence is in readiness for their occupancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Millard, of Danbury, Ct., were expected to arrive at the Ridgewood this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Millard, who will spend several weeks at the Ridgewood, are well acquainted in Daytona, having spent the winter season here for several years.

Yes, the Despland hotel had its biggest arrival of the season, Tuesday. He arrived in the person of A. K. Woodman, and he hails from the fair village of Weehawken, N. J. Mr. Woodman, who is 'touring the state in company with D. J. Moher, also of Weehawken, carries "some" weight; it is close to the 450-pound mark. He stands six feet eight inches tall, and is broad in proportion. The giant is very favorably impressed with what he has seen of "the prettiest winter resort in the world" and has, in fact, signified his intention of returning to Daytona later in the season for a more extended visit. However, for the present, he will make but a brief stop before proceeding to Palm Beach and Miami, later touring the west coast before returning here.

THE NAUTILUS IDEA.

The purpose of the Nautilus is to provide an "all the time—every day and every evening" gathering place for the residents of Daytona and our winter visitors.

Don't wait for "special events." There is something going on at the Nautilus every day. Don't plan for one big evening once in a while—Get the "Nautilus Habit."

Just drop in any old time for an hour or two, enjoy the music, watch the swimming or try the baths yourself. Watch the dancing—or dance yourself.

Now, regarding the dancing. If you don't dance, or if you formerly danced and have gotten out of the habit—now is a good time to begin under the most favorable circumstances, with good music and good instructors. You can get instructions at a merely nominal cost. Those who simply want dance partners, gentlemen or ladies, can always find them at the Nautilus. There are ten assistant instructors on duty there for that purpose.

The afternoon parties at the Nautilus are becoming very popular. With the good music of the Nautilus lady orchestra and expert dance partners, what more could be desired.

Every day, afternoon and evening—something always down at the Nautilus.

MUD HOLES SHOULD BE ERADICATED

SHELL AND NOT MARL WILL REMEDY THE NUISANCE ON SEABREEZE AVENUE IN FRONT OF THE POSTOFFICE.

There has been much criticism heard of late concerning the muddy and unsanitary condition of Seabreeze avenue, especially in front of the new postoffice building, near Live Oak street.

At this point water, six inches deep, has been permitted to stand in pools along the gutter or outer edge of the sidewalk, and every driver of an automobile who happens to be passing by, close in, send a shower of mud and water over the sidewalk. If a pedestrian chances to be on the walk at the time the car passes, he or she is pretty certain to receive a ducking that is anything but pleasant.

To the excessive rains much of the trouble is attributable, yet there has been now and then a day when the sun shone sufficiently strong to dry up the streets pretty thoroughly, with the exception, of course, of the place previously mentioned.

It is a fact, however, that the authorities are today attempting to modify the nuisance by dumping a few loads of marl into the mud holes, which, according to J. E. D. Graves and others, who have seen it tried out, claim that the marl will only serve to retain the water. On the other hand, if shell were used, the rain and water would soak through, and the part that received the dressing would eventually become hard surfaced.

Other bad holes in the road bed along the car tracks are noticeable, but these do not cause any real inconvenience except during rainy weather.

WINTER RESIDENCE OF E. J. PEABODY SOON TO BE OCCUPIED

The imposing winter residence of E. J. Peabody is being put in order for the occupancy of the owner, who arrived more than a month ago and is guest at the Seaside Inn. This is one of the most artistic and substantial of the new winter homes which have recently been erected on Halifax avenue, and is attracting much admiration from the tourists.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beardsley, of Halifax avenue, have been enjoying a visit for a couple of days from Mr. and Mrs. Kaden, friends of their home town, Boyne City, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Kaden were enroute to Orlando, where they will spend the remainder of the winter with relatives.

The Gray Gables, Judge Stewart's beach residence, has been leased by Chas. Corryell of Toronto, Canada, and Mr. Corryell and family, and his friend, A. Dods, and family, will occupy it for the remainder of the season. Mr. Corryell and family have spent more than one season in Seabreeze and his return will be noted with interest by friends and acquaintances. Mr. Corryell is a friend of Mr. Waterson, of North Halifax avenue.

SEABREEZE POST OFFICE ELECTRICALLY LIGHTED

Postmaster Graves has had electric lights installed in the Seabreeze post office. Harry Gilmore did the work. The business at the post office has made good gain over last season, and Mr. Graves and his assistant, Miss Bishop, are busy people these days.

CLARENDON-ORMOND BASE BALL GAME POSTPONED

The Clarendon-Ormond baseball game which was scheduled to take place at the latter place today has been postponed until Saturday afternoon, at 3:15 P. M.

Both clubs are composed of clerks from the two big hostels, many of the players having been associated at some time or another with professional organizations in different parts of the country, and retain much of their old time vim when pitted against each other on the diamond.

Neither team lacks for rooters, and it is expected that an unusually large crowd will turn out on Saturday to see the game, which will be the third of a series, both of the former games having been won by the Ormond boys with close margins.

Reservations for transportation by automobile must be made early so as enough cars can be provided to accommodate all who wish to witness the game.

R. M. BOND GAVE DIN-NER PARTY LAST NIGHT

R. M. Bond, of DeLand, gave a dinner party to a company of friends at the Clarendon last night, which proved to be one of these little reunions that always carry with them a lot of enjoyment for all who participate. There were 11 in the party and all, with the exception of three, are residents of Willoughby, Ohio. Mr. Bond had as his guests, W. A. Bates, W. C. Callister, Wm. Pierce, A. K. Correll, Will Celley, J. M. Barnes, C. C. Cotrell, M. Dickey, George E. Kline and M. M. Bond.

RICH PARTY WILL TOUR LOWER EAST COAST

Mr. and Mrs. M. Rich and family, with their chauffeur, spent Tuesday night at the Clarendon, leaving the following morning for points further south. The Rich party will tour the lower East Coast as far as it is possible to do so, and returning they expect to pass some time at the Hotel Clarendon.

If you see it in the Daily News it is pretty apt to be just that way.

CLARENDON GUESTS WILL MOTOR TO MIAMI

G. H. Faatz and G. S. Dickey, who have been guests at the Clarendon for some time past, will leave today for a motor trip to Palm Beach, expecting to go as far as Miami before returning to Seabreeze. According to report, Messrs. Faatz and Dickey are the men who originally introduced the famous game of "Kelly Pool" at the Clarendon, which is rapidly gaining in popularity all along the east coast. There is much rivalry between the two men, as to who is the best pocket billiardist, and while Mr. Faatz says he can defeat Mr. Dickey at any stage of the game, the latter says, "I like Kellycan."

ARRIVALS AT BIG HOTEL INCLUDE PROMINENT PEOPLE

Tuesday's arrivals at the big hotel include many prominent people, among them being Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Murray, of New York; Mrs. M. J. Groan, Mrs. M. V. Eagan, John J. Eagan and P. A. Murphy—all of Atlantic City.

MRS. R. G. KEENEY GAVE DINNER PARTY LAST NIGHT

Mrs. R. G. Keeney gave a dinner party to a few of her friends in the Clarendon grill last night. The table was tastefully arranged with four covers, and the party which was composed of Clarendon cottagers was delightfully entertained by the hostess, who has been a guest at the big hotel for some time.

BY MISS CELIA DOERNER

This office is in receipt of a copy of "Little Ripples of Song," a charming collection of poems by Miss Celia Doerner of Grants Pass, Oregon, formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, and well known to many Daytonians through a residence of several years in this city and at Holly Hill.

The modest cover encloses between 75 and 100 pages of poems written by Miss Doerner, about half of which had not previously been published and dealing with a great variety of subjects. Miss Doerner is a clever writer and her poems, especially those touching upon child life, show great tenderness of feeling and deep insight in her subject.

Miss Doerner has been an invalid for many years and this little book of poems is dedicated to her sister, Mrs. Edw. G. Harris, in appreciation of the loving care and attention she has received from her.

Of the book the author says: "Of the many poems penned by me during the scant leisure of a busy life I have gathered a few for this volume, in the hope that they may not only interest my friends, but that some of them may find favor in the eyes of a wider reading circle and be deemed worthy of preservation for their own sake."

The book is issued by the Gorum Press of Boston, Mass.

NEARLY ALL VARIETIES OF "SPEED" COME HIGH

In the municipal court, Wednesday morning, J. H. Donnelly said he was on a prominent thoroughfare of the city, Tuesday, when he heard something go "zing!" past him—just like that. Looking around, he saw in the distance an automobile jogging jauntily along in clever imitation of Barney Oldfield trying to break his own speed record. In the same breath Mr. Donnelly looked again and recognized Hermann Dohm, Jr., as the manipulator of the car's steering apparatus. F. D. Spring, who was standing near, looked and saw the same sights. He also said so in open court. Mr. Dohm, prior to the introduction of testimony, intimated that he was shocked at being charged with "speeding," and gently but firmly requested that he be "shown." He was. So was Mayor Titus, who put on that suave, fetching manner of his, and induced Mr. Dohm to separate himself from eight handsomely engraved "E Pluribus Unum"—$5 to pay for the restoration of Daytona's dignity and $3 for the gentlemen who witnessed the "insult" and assisted in the "post mortem."

TALK TO LEIDERSDORF*BRICK WORK COMPLETE ON THE JAX HIGHWAYPERMANENT BRICK ROAD MADE POSSIBLE BY BOND ISSUE EX-TENDING FROM ST. AUGUSTINE TO DUVAL LINE.

A dream of good roads boosters has come true, says the St. Augustine Record. A brick-paved highway from St. Augustine to the Duval county line is at last an accomplished fact. In the future automobile parties will not start on a trip over this link in the Johnson Anderson Boulevard with the haunting dread that they will terminate their ride in a bog or sand bed. The brick is all laid on this stretch and many autos have already sped over the smooth hard surface.

While the brick is down, the finishing touches have not yet been administered and quite a little work remains to be done before the plans are completely complied with. On both sides of the brick pavement the loose earth must be smoothed and packed, giving the road a width of eighteen feet, nine feet of brick and four and a half of shell on each side. The shell used on this road for surfacing and dug up when the bed for the brick was prepared has been thrown to each side of the road, but has not been smoothed or packed. It is mixed with sand and at present forms a loose mass, dangerous to automobiles swerving from the brick pavement and a deadly menace to speeders. The plans call for the grading, smoothing and rolling of this material, which will be further strengthened by additional shell. When this is done, the road will be in accord with the original plans.

At several points about nine miles from the city, men are at work relaying brick where ruts had formed, due to opening this part of the road too early. When the contractor was at work on this stretch, the heavy and incessant travel over the road rebelled against the detour that was practically impassable, and he opened the road at this point while the paving was in progress. This resulted in a depression under the pressure of the wheels and ruts were formed. The repair gang are removing the brick, packing the foundation firm and relaying the pavement.

At Twelve Mile Swamp the roadway will be widened, as it is too narrow to accommodate heavy traffic from both directions. This, however, was decided upon some time ago.

The bridge over Durbin Creek is well advanced, the concrete and steel work thus far completed showing that it will be a structure of exceptional strength and one that will last for many years. The temporary bridge at one side is still in use and causes no inconvenience to travel.

At the dividing line between St. Johns and Duval counties a sign tells the traveler of the location. The brick roads speak for the progressiveness of this county.

Tuesday's tragedy in which two men were killed points out the need for attention to the sides of the road. The sand needs a strong firm surface that will sustain the weight of an automobile. There is also a warning in the tragedy to speeders. The road is not a race track and those who try for speed records thereon are taking fearful risks.

The short stretch of road in Duval county between the two paved sections will be improved at once and travel to and from Jacksonville will in future be easy and pleasant.

The new Christian church building is now well advanced in construction. The walls are completed and the truss frame in place for the support of the roof, and it is hoped to have the building under roof by the end of the week.

Mrs. A. W. Tressler and three sons and Mrs. Tressler's mother arrived Wednesday from Madison, Wis., to occupy for the season one of the J. G. Brown houses, 233 South Ridge-wood avenue. Mr. Tressler will join his family here today, driving through from Jacksonville in his car.

F. M. Williams, who came to Daytona recently from Chattanooga, Tenn., and is employed in the R. S. Maley hardware store, has rented and is occupying with his wife and children, the Geo. A. Foye cottage on South Palmetto avenue. Messrs. Foye and Williams in conversing brought out the fact that the latter and Mr. Foye's son, G. A. Foye, Jr., had been roommates while attending Stetson university at DeLand.

Progress.

The old-fashioned boy who used to get a penny for turning the handles of the clothes wringer for his mother on wash-day now has a son who curses every time he has to crank up his auto engine.

What's to Be Done?

An insurance official declares spinsters live longer than married women. Married men are also said to live longer than bachelors. But if all men were married, there would be very few spinsters, and if all women were spinsters, there wouldn't be any married men. What are we going to do about it?—New York World.

Field's First Need.

A priest was called upon to pray over the barren fields of his parishioners. He passed from one inclosure to another, and pronounced his benediction until he came to a most unpromising case. He surveyed the sterile acres in despair. "Ah!" said he, "brethren—no use to pray here—this needs fertilizing."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Make Our Own Troubles.

"We talk so much and we think so much of the trouble we have with others that we more than half persuade ourselves that if everybody else were just right we could get on easily in life; but the fact is that more than half of our troubles with others grow out of our own faults and failures, and are not due to the faults or failures of other people at all."

Man's Utter Foolishness.

Man is certainly stark mad; he cannot make a worm, and yet he will be making gods by dozens.—Montaigne.
